ANGLE ADD-ON GAME

Time: Station:

Overview

This small-area game teaches players how to angle effectively while keeping the pace competitive. It begins with a simple rush situation and builds into multi-player battles as coaches activate additional skaters. Players learn to take smart defensive angles, support the puck offensively, and adjust quickly as the numbers change.

Setup

- Use one third-ice with two nets.
- Teams line up at the blue line; the coach controls the pucks.
- On the whistle, the coach passes a puck to the offensive team.
- One (or two) offensive players circle around their own net to start their attack across ice.
- One (or two) defensive players must skate through both circles before closing in, ensuring they establish the proper angle and timing.
- The play starts as a 1v1 (or 2v2).
- Coaches can call out more players by color/team name to jump in, creating uneven or even-number situations.
- Keep score to add competition.

Coaching Points

- Defensive Angling:
  - Take an inside-out angle to steer attackers into low-risk areas.
  - Keep stick down to block passing lanes.
  - Match speed so the angle is controlled, not reckless.

- Activated Players:
    - Join the play with urgency - either as an outlet or to apply back pressure.
    - Communicate clearly with teammates to organize quickly.
- Offense:
    - Attack with pace, make quick reads, and use support options as numbers change.

Variations

- Start directly as a 1v1, 2v2, or 3v3.
- Coaches decide the trigger for activation (e.g., turnover, pass to the coach, or time limit).
- Reward players or teams that consistently use the skills emphasized in practice (e.g., angling, stick positioning, quick support).
